

Ainsley Nichole Upah

Affirmation of Baptism

Scripture Verse: For surely I know the plans I have for you, says the LORD, plans for your welfare and not for harm, to give you a future with hope. (Jeremiah 29:11)

This verse stands out when I think about my future and my faith. God is everlasting. God wants me to love everyone: the sick and the poor, the rich and the prideful, the elderly and the young. I want to love all people because God first loves me. But sometimes we mess that up. God forgives us and God teaches me to forgive.

God is in Jesus. That means God cares enough to be close to us and be connected to us. God does through baptism and communion and everywhere we go.

God guides to us to see the positive and do it. God gives us new opportunities and loves us wherever we go and in all of our decisions. Though I do not know what my future is or where my life will take me, I know that God leads me and God will continue to love me.

God gives me comfort. Each time I pray I know God is listening. That is the greatest comfort you can have.